DEATH A SHOCK.

Timothy J. Goulding Expires Suddenly Saturday Morning.

The community was saddened by the report of the sudden and unexpected death of Timothy J. Goulding, a well known business man and respected resident of New Albany, which occurred early Saturday morning at his home, 705 West Market street. For the past month the deceased had suffered from stomach trouble, but was not confined to his home and was able to be at his place of business Friday. Shortly after retiring Friday evening Mr. Goulding was stricken with severe pains in his stomach and at 2 o'clock in the morning he expired. He was a native of New Albany, forty-seven years old and unmarried. Surviving him are his father, Michael Goulding, and sister, Miss Margaret Goulding, who resided with him, and two brothers, John and James Goulding, also of New Albany. When a young man Mr. Goulding engaged in the coal and contracting business and had always been successful in his enterprises. Prominent in every public movement, he was a friend of the poor and deserving, a generous employer and strictly honest in all his dealings, and his death will prove a severe loss to the city. Mr. Goulding was a devout member of Holy Trinity church, and the great outpouring of people that attended the solemn funeral obsequies Tuesday morning was a fitting tribute to the close of an honored career.

DELMONT OFFICERS

Arranging to Keep Open House New Years Day.

The Directors of the Delmont Club, the well known East End social organization, held their annual meeting at the club house Tuesday night and elected the following officers: President—William Menler. Vice President—Herman Roehr. Financial Secretary—Leo P. Kaufman. Corresponding Secretary—L. W. Borntraeger. Treasurer—Henry H. Lang. Sergeant-at-Arms—Thomas T. Dunlop.

The reports of the retiring officers were very satisfactory and show the club has lost none of its prestige. From now until December 22 turkeys will be offered as prizes for those rolling the highest scores in the open bowling contests to be held nightly. The newly elected officers are now perfecting arrangements for their open house and reception on New Year's day, when the club house is visited by hundreds from all parts of the city.

PASSIONISTS' SERMONS.

Tomorrow will be the first Sunday in Advent and the Fathers of the Passionist Congregation at the Sacred Heart Retreat have prepared a series of sermons for each Sunday afternoon between now and Christmas. The sermons will begin at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon and the subjects and the preachers will be as follows:

Sunday, December 1—"The Church and Secret Societies," by the Very Rev. Henry Miller, C. P., rector.
December 8—"The Church and Progress," by the Rev. Leo Harrigan, C. P.
December 15—"The Church and Socialism," by the Rev. Benedict Hanly, C. P.
December 22—"The Church and the Apostolate of Laymen," the Rev. Charles Cassidy.

On each afternoon a special musical programme will be rendered under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Chase.

KNIGHTS AND LADIES.

Branch 2 of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, generally known as St. Patrick's branch and one of the largest in the country, held a rousing meeting at Seventeenth and Main streets Wednesday night, Robinson Hall being crowded. The election of one new member and filling of six applications aroused the greatest enthusiasm, as did also the encouraging reports from Miss Mary Sheridan, the Supreme Treasurer, and the addresses by prominent members of the order.

CARDINAL

Urges Mankind to Be Diligent and Industrious Without Anxiety.

Points Out the Necessity For Our Proper Use of Today.

Trouble Not About Tomorrow That May Never Be Born.

IMAGINARY OR MAGNIFIED CARES.

The following article from the pen of Cardinal Gibbons is the best that has been written during this Thanksgiving season by any of our great men, and contains so much food for thought that it is here given in its entirety:

What is this earth but a vast storehouse containing all things essential to the wants of man? If you look about you, you will behold the mountains clothed with virgin forests. If you delve into the bowels of the earth, you will find an inexhaustible supply of coal and other minerals. If you cast your eyes around you, you will see the valleys smiling with harvests of grain and fruit. What God said of old to Adam, he says also to you: "Rule over the fish of the sea and the fowls of the air and the beasts of the field, and over all creatures that move on the face of the earth."

It is true, indeed, that God feeds the birds of the air. But he does not deposit the bird's breakfast in the nest. The bird must rise early to find it. "The early bird catches the worm." It is true that God crowns the mountains with forest trees, and enriches the bowels of the earth with coal and other mineral deposits. But it is equally true that before these eyes can be utilized man must cultivate the soil, plant the seed, reap it, and gather into barns. Christ multiplied the loaves in the desert to remind us of the bounty of Divine Providence. He commands the people to gather the fragments to point out the duty of human industry.

You should be active and industrious without excessive solicitude, diligent and laborious without anxiety. Labor today as if all depended on the Providence of God. Use today, for it is yours; trouble not yourself about the morrow, for it belongs to God. It is still in the womb of futurity, and never may be born to you. "Be not solicitous for tomorrow, for tomorrow will be solicitous for itself. Sufficient for this day is the evil thereof." Do not derange the order of Divine Providence by superadding to the care of today the solicitudes of tomorrow, which often are imaginary or magnified by the imagination. Like a skillful general, concentrate your powers on the formidable enemy that confronts you now. Do not scatter your forces by striving at the same time to encounter an enemy yet afar off and who never may approach you. Endeavor to pass through cares, as it were, without care. While the mists of perplexity and anxiety may hover about the imagination and disquiet the senses, never let these vapors ascend to the higher and more serene atmosphere where the soul is enthroned, and communes in undisturbed union with her God.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

During the past week an unusually large number of marriage licenses were issued from the County Clerk's office. Among the applicants were Joseph W. Glen and Mary J. Murphy, Thomas J. Shaughnessy and Tilda A. Vissman, George W. Sullivan and May A. Sullivan, Joseph Dozabue and Matilda Meyer, John Carney and Norine Scherzinger, J. M. Hillerich and Christine Weber, H. M. Gorman and Irene C. Gross, William Tucker and May Mattingly, Mike Gaffney and Julia Wiersack.

QUIRK—FINNEGAN.

St. Columba's Church Scene of a Happy Nuptial Ceremony.

St. Columba's church had its first wedding at 3:30 o'clock last Wednesday afternoon, when Martin Quirk and Miss Nora Finnegan became man and wife. The Rev. Father John D. Kalaher, a cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony. Her brother, Joseph Finnegan, of Indianapolis, and Thomas McLaughlin were the attendants. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion and was crowded with friends of the contracting parties.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Quirk gave a dinner and reception to their friends in their neat little home at 621 West Magnolia avenue. The bride is a sister of Martin, Michael and James Finnegan, and Mr. Quirk is being congratulated on winning the hand and heart of such a charming girl. The happy couple received many handsome presents from their numerous friends.

BIG BAZAR

Is Planned to Aid Good Work of St. Anthony's Hospital.

Friends of St. Anthony's Hospital are planning an old-fashioned fair for the benefit of that institution and there is every indication of success. The initial meeting was held at the hospital last Sunday afternoon and the attendance was quite large. Frank Geher presided and appointed many of the committees that will help to make the bazar a success. All present expressed their willingness to assist in the work.

The gentlemen who are engaged in this good work will meet again at St. Anthony's Hospital on the evening of Monday, December 16, while the ladies will meet at the same place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon on Sunday, December 15.

The Sisters of St. Francis have labored hard since they have been here to make St. Anthony's Hospital one of the foremost of its kind in the United States, and while a few of its patients are able to pay the majority are taken through charity, and the Sisters must subsist and carry on their good work from the contributions of the charitably inclined. All good Catholics are preparing to assist in the coming noble work.

VICTIM OF STRIKE.

Theodore Bossung, a veteran policeman, died at the City Hospital early Monday morning, a victim of lockjaw. Mr. Bossung was the only policeman who received mortal injuries during the street car strike. He was a driver of the Fifth district patrol wagon and was en route for a prisoner when his horses ran away. He lingered from Friday until Monday morning. The deceased had been a member of the police force more than twenty years. His wife and several children survive him. The funeral took place from St. Paul's church, Jackson and Kentucky streets, Wednesday morning.

DECORATION COMPLETED.

The people who constitute St. Joseph's congregation at Leitchfield were agreeably surprised when they visited their church on Thanksgiving day and found that the work of decorating the interior had been completed. For three months the artists had been engaged in the work, which cost about $2,700. It is conceded that St. Joseph's now presents an interior that for richness of finish surpasses that of any church in the State outside of Louisville.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION.

Last Monday Capt. Thomas Hanlon, the popular Auditor of Floyd county, Ind., and his estimable wife celebrated the thirty-fourth anniversary of their marriage. The worthy couple were wedded on Thanksgiving day, November 25, 1873, in Holy Trinity church, New Albany, and but for a few silver hairs neither show their age. Many friends called at their home to tender congratulations, and all hoped they would live to celebrate their golden wedding.
